

After a busy weekend at Traverse, afternoon tea at the BALTIC's roof top restaurant, Six was the perfect way to relax before heading home.

Whilst lounging on the comfy sofas and taking in the stunning views we were given a selection of tasty finger sandwiches (why do sandwiches always taste better without the crusts?!), fruit scones with local jam and clotted cream. The cakes of banoffee trifle, rhubarb and custard pavlova, treacle tart and orange cake with cream cheese frosting were just delicious. The staff were very attentive and kept my choice of tea flowing.

Afternoon tea here is the perfect treat and very reasonably priced (starting at £14.95 per guest).
